ENROLLMENT IS OVER 1,400

FINAL COLLEGE FIGURES ARE COMPLETED.

FROM MANY STATES

Students From More Than One-Third of Counties In Missouri—Christian Church Leads.

Final figures on the enrollment at the State Teachers College this summer, as compiled by M. E. Seleeman, director of information, show a total of slightly more than fourteen hundred students. This is less than the total enrollment of last summer by approximately one hundred.

Students are enrolled from twenty-three counties outside the nineteen counties in the Northwest Missouri district, making in all more than one-third of the counties in the state represented. Ten states, Michigan, Wisconsin, Kansas, Wyoming, Iowa, Nebraska, Georgia, Illinois, Texas, and California have contributed to make-up a cosmopolitan student group.

The students are divided among the counties as follows:

Andrew, 61; Atchison, 48; Buchanan, 65; Caldwell, 14; Carroll, 16; Clay, 13; Clinton, 32; Davies, 81; Dekalb, 31; Gentry, 78; Grundy, 50; Harrison, 88; Holt, 63; Livingston, 30; Mercer, 20; Nodaway, 416; Platte, 12; Ray, 7; Worth, 58; Out-of-district, 42; Out-of-state, 37.

In religious affiliations the largest denominational representation is that of the First Christians with a total of 414. The next largest number are Methodists who number four less than the Christians. There are 177 Baptists, 97 Presbyterians, and 40 Catholics. In all, twenty-one religious beliefs are represented.

Twenty-two of the students are over 40 years of age. Fourteen of them are past the half century mark, the oldest being a white-haired scholar who has been in the teaching profession for almost two score years.

Search for Convicts Who Make Escape

Two Men Disappear From Prison Camp In Callaway County—From Mississippi and Scott Counties.

Jefferson City, July 22.—Charles Levan and Ben McPherson, convicts at prison camp No. 2 in Callaway County, were being sought today after having escaped from the camp over night. It is believed the convicts walked to North Jefferson and caught a freight train there.

Levan was received at the prison in February from Mississippi County to serve two years for transporting liquor. McPherson was sentenced from Scott County last August to serve seven and a half years for robbery.

Famous Quartet in Concert at College

Lunsford-Allan-Foreman-Yehle Organization Sing Several Selections At Assembly This Morning.

The State Teachers College Male Quartet of 1923 which will be remembered by many in Maryville, gave a program at the assembly of the State Teachers College this morning. The quartet has been broken up for over a year as some of the members were out in the field in the teaching profession. The members are Floyd Lunsford, Russell Allan, Floyd Foreman, and Carlos Yehle.

The men were given a generous and prolonged ovation by the students after they had been introduced by Temple Allen, president of the Student Council. After they had sung several numbers they were given a greater ovation. The first was a tribute to them as former prominent students of the College, the second was given as a tribute to their talent as a group of vocal musical artists.

Before the musical program two of the students enrolled in the class in story-telling under Harry A. Miller, told entertaining stories to the audience.

Rites for Men Who Succumbed in Mine

Unionville, Mo., July 22.—Funerals were held today for three men who lost their lives as the result of black damp in a coal mine seven miles southeast of here yesterday. The men went into the mine, which was idle and were overcome before rescue parties could reach them.

Proposed Bond Issue Loses at Pickering

Vote Is 67 for and 56 Against—Two-Thirds Necessary—Board Meets Tomorrow Night.

The proposal for an $8,000 bond issue to build a new schoolhouse at Pickering and make needed improvements on the old one was defeated in the special election held there yesterday.

The total vote was sixty-seven for the bonds and fifty-six against, a two-thirds vote being necessary.

The Pickering school board will meet at the office of the lumber yard there at 8 o'clock tomorrow night to canvass the returns and decide what action shall be taken.

DARROW GIVES HIS OPINIONS

BRYAN DRAWS OUT VIEWS OF CHICAGO LAWYER.

DISBELIEVES MIRACLES

Answer Expresses Agnosticism As To God And Immortality—"Christ Simply Great Jew."

Costs Scopes Defense $25,000.

Dayton, Tenn., July 22.—A misdemeanor case, carrying as penalty a fine of $100 and costs of the trial, brought an expenditure of approximately $25,000 to the defenders of John T. Scopes.

Actual court costs are estimated at more than $300. By far the greatest expense has been the cost of bringing expert witnesses, who were not allowed to testify. Completion of the record for presentation in the higher courts will add several other thousands of dollars.

Dayton, Tenn., July 22.—Forbidden to examine Clarence Darrow on the witness stand concerning the Chicago lawyer's religious views, William Jennings Bryan administered the examination late yesterday through the medium of a statement.

Questions were propounded and were answered shortly afterward by the Scopes defense attorney.

Mr. Darrow expressed his agnosticism toward what might be back of the universe and its origin. He looked upon the Bible as any other great book, believed "the Christ prophesied in the Old Testament was simply a great Jew who should deliver the Jews from physical bondage," did not believe in miracles and still was seeking evidence on possible life beyond the grave.

The questions and answers:

Mr. Bryan—Do you believe in the existence of God as described in the Bible?

Mr. Darrow—I do not know of any description of God in the Bible. We are

GAME DEPT. MORE ALERT

FIVE MORE DEPUTY WARDENS FOR THIS DISTRICT.

WALLACE ARRESTS 7

Now Awaiting Arraignment in Justice Court for Illegal Seining and Hand Fishing.

That it is the intention of the State Fish and Game Department for a more strict observance of the game laws of the state, is emphasized by the fact that five new deputy game wardens will be put on in the near future, according to John Wallace, district deputy game warden. Deputy game wardens for the counties of Atchison, Holt, Nodaway, Worth and Gentry, will be appointed, and Mr. Wallace will work in co-operation with the additional force of the game department.

Deputy Wallace said this morning that the law against hand fishing is to be enforced to the letter and that he is now on the lookout for violators. Three men are now under arrest for hand fishing. They will be arraigned in justice court at Guilford Monday. The men who Deputy Wallace arrested for this infraction are Raymond and Bud Weese of Old Conception and Joe Corrigan, who lives near Guilford. They are charged with hand fishing on the Platte River north of Guilford.

Four others are also awaiting trial in justice court, being charged with using an illegal net Mr. Wallace confiscated their seine and net. They were arrested for illegal seining in the Platte River near Ravenwood. These four who are now awaiting arraignment are Ira Eiseman, who lives east of Maryville, John Green, who lives on the Platte River near Ravenwood; and Clarence and George McBride, living four miles southeast of Maryville.

Mr. Wallace said that during the hot weather of recent date there were thousands of cat fish dying in the small streams of Northwest Missouri and he had orders to fence off the deeper holes in the rivers to save the fish. However, since the cooler weather the staking off the deep holes has not been necessary.

St. Louis Man Gets Postoffice Contract

Washington, D. C., July 22.—A contract for the erection of a new postoffice building at Franklin, Pa., was recorded today to A. M. Lundgerg, of St. Louis, by assistant secretary of the treasury, Moss.

Is More at Home in a Little Red Ford Than on An Unruly Horse During Drill

Distasteful duties such as mounted drill on a muddy field, a baseball game, several minor incidents and preperation for regimental honors are mentioned in the following two letters written for the Democrat-Forum and Tribune by Sergeant Ray V. Blomfield that concern the activities of Battery C, 128th F. A., Missouri National Guard, that is at summer camp at Fort Riley, Kan. Sergeant Blomfield, in a note to the editor, says that these letters will conclude his duties as a correspondent. So, unless there are some unusual happenings at Fort Riley these will be the last of a series of letters to this paper by Sergeant Blomfield.

Pawnee Flats,
Fort Riley, Kan.
Noon, July 20, 1925.

Democrat-Forum and Tribune:

We had our inspection yesterday and came through it very nicely. In fact the colonel was so well pleased that he announced at chapel that he would excuse us from regimental parade in the afternoon. Another disappointment.

Some of our fellows, feeling somewhat sporty, challenged any battery in the regiment to a five-inning baseball game. This challenge was accepted and was nicely cared for by Battery A, beating us 6 to 2. It seems like it might be well for us to confine ourselves to marble tournaments hereafter.

Sergeant Roach turned detective for a time and revealed the fact that Lattin's feared rattlesnake was really a snake of another and harmless variety and that the dreaded rattle was only a locust.

The show I spoke of in my previous letter was very good. We saw one reel of Pathe News, two reels of the "Life at Riley," showing a day in the life of a cavalry officer and a six-reel feature. Some of the men slipped out and got into camp before taps. Others and the majority waited till the show was over and after a two-mile walk for a "chaser" arrived in camp at 10:45.

We were favored by another rain last night, accompanied by the usual trimmings of lightning so common to Kansas storms. Rain began falling at 1:30 a. m., and continued more or less consistently until 6:30 this morning. Camp life isn't all roses after such a shower.

As is to be expected, many amusing incidents happen in our daily work such as Sergeant Donahue saluting a sergeant at the Fort and other such happenings. But I believe I will be showing rare judgment by withholding them.

We had mounted drill this morning in the mud. Our men can do several things better than drill with horses but I guess they will learn. Personally, I feel more at ease riding a bicycle or a little red Ford. Our drill ground is over a series of ditches and rocks. In the drill, Sergeant Smith, who was riding a caisson, was thrown off and barely escaped being run over by the wheels. Thereupon he retired

Making Plans for Bedford Fair Trip

Twenty-Five Piece Band Will Accompany Local Delegation—100 Cars May Be Available

Arrangements are rapidly being completed for Maryville Day at the Bedford Fair next Wednesday, according to the committee in charge.

A twenty-five piece band, under the direction of Herbert Gray of the College Conservatory of Music, will make the trip to Bedford with the Maryville delegation.

It is hoped that about 100 cars will be available and that a large delegation will accompany the band. Banners will be placed on all the cars.

The exact hour of leaving Maryville has not yet been decided but will be definitely announced later.

END COMES TO OLD RESIDENT

MRS. MARY HARRY OF RAVENWOOD DIES TODAY.

WAS 91 YEARS OLD

Resident of Nodaway County Since 1858—Arrangements for Funeral Not Yet Completed.

Mrs. Mary Harry, 91 years old, a resident of the Ravenwood vicinity since 1858, died about 9 o'clock this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Frampton, northeast of Ravenwood. Her death was due to a complication of diseases and she had been bedfast the last few months.

The arrangements for the funeral will not be completed until word is received from a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Kessler, Charity, Mo.

Mrs. Harry was born in Monroe County, Va., June 21, 1834. With her parents, Anderson and Sarah Smith, she came to Buchanan County in 1857, residing there one year. She was married to LeRoy Harry on March 1, 1854. In 1858, they located on a farm two miles south of Ravenwood and Nodaway County has been the home of Mrs. Harry since. After leaving this farm, Mr. and Mrs. Harry had charge of a store in Old Sweet Home, near Ravenwood.

Mrs. Harry was one of a family of twelve children and she is survived by one brother, George Smith of Polk County, Mo. Other children who survive are: Mrs. Martha Campbell, Norton, Kas.; Mrs. O. P. Bardwell, Oceanside, Cal.; Mrs. Indamora Brooks, Ravenwood, with whom Mrs. Harry made her home. Sixteen grandchildren, twenty-six great grandchildren and six great great grandchildren also survive. Mr. Harry died March 18, 1910. Mrs. Harry had been a member of the Christian Church since her childhood days.

Woman Leaps to Her Death During Fire

Fifteen Houses And Four Apartments Buildings In Flames Following An Explosion.

Detroit, Mich., July 22.—Fifteen houses and four apartment buildings are in flames here as the result of an explosion shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon.

An unidentified woman, caught by the flames on the third floor of an apartment building, leaped to her death from a window.

The cause of the explosion, which rocked the entire section near one of the most fashionable neighborhoods in the city, is unknown.

Entertainers Will Present Program

Will Be Given At Baptist Church At 8:30 O'Clock Tonight—No Admission Charge—Public Invited.

The Brown-Meneley chautauqua entertainers will appear in a program at the Baptist Church at 8:30 o'clock tonight. The public is cordially invited to the meeting and there will be no admission charge.

The program tonight will consist of readings, solo work, impersonations and chime playing and is in the way of a "booster" meeting for the 1925 chautauqua which opens here July 30 and continues for six days.

The program for the six-day event will be outlined tonight and other matters taken up which will be of general interest to the public.

ROBERT SCOTT TRUMP CARD

HE MUST CONFESS TO SAVE HIS BROTHER.

NEW DEFENSE STEP

Will Appeal To Clarence Darrow To Use Efforts To Save Boy From Gallows Friday.

Chicago, July 22.—An appeal for a thirty day reprieve for Russell Scott will be made by Charles W. Biedwell and Arthur W. Kettles, attorneys for the condemned, who stepped today into the place as his new counsel in the last-ditch fight to save him from the gallows. Mr. Biedwell said:

"We have been given information which we will put before Governor Len Small which we believe will shed new light to warrant the stay." He declined to give additional information.

Meanwhile in three cities, Chicago, Detroit and Windsor, Ont., efforts were being made to continue to find Robert Scott, missing brother of Russell Scott, and to obtain another delay to stay the hanging. Death has been set for Friday.

At the same time it was apparant that Governor Small will not grant another stay unless Robert Scott surrenders and confesses. During the negotiations that are taking place activities in Russell Scott's behalf have been made in Detroit to raise $3,500 to retain Clarence Darrow, Chicago attorney, to plead for the boy and make an appeal to President Coolidge.

Springfield, Ill., July 22.—Russell Scott sympathizers are ruining the scanny chances for lienency from Governor Small, according to information from official headquarters.

"There has been so many attempts already to deceive the Governor in this case," a spokesman for the Governor said, "that Governor Small is willing to save the life of Russell Scott to prove his innocence but he has had enough of this stalling. The defense has only one trump card, that is the arrest and delivery of Robert Scott."

It is now understood that the information given out Tuesday to Governor Small by James Sweinhart, a Detroit newspaper man, reported asking the governor for a conference, in regard to the arrest and delivery of Robert Scott, was an attempt to get a stay of execution until he had opportunity to run down clues regarding the hiding place of Scott's brother.

Detroit, July 22.—James M. Ball, originator of the fake telegrams which secured a week's reprieve for Russell Scott, was taken to a hospital today for observation.

Mrs. B. Dougherty, 95 Years Old, Dies

Had Made Her Home With Her Daughter, Mrs. Mary Cain at Clyde—Body To Dubuque, Ia.

Mrs. Bridget Dougherty of Clyde, 95 years old, died suddenly at 8 o'clock last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Cain. Mrs. Dougherty was sitting in a chair when stricken with paralysis. She had been as well as usual and devoted most of the day to reading the papers. Mrs. Cain will leave tonight with the body for Dubuque, Ia., where funeral services will be held Friday morning at St. Anthony's Church. Burial will be in the Centralia cemetery.

Mrs. Dougherty was born January 8, 1830, in County Antrim, Ireland. She came to the United States about sixty-eight years ago. She resided near Dubuque, Ia., until twelve years ago when she came to live with her daughter in Clyde. Her husband died thirty years ago.

Besides the daughter, she is survived by two sons, Henry A. Daugherty, Peosta, Ia., and Frank Dougherty of Murdo, S. Dak. Two brothers, John O'Kane, Sheldon, Ia., and Dan O'Kane, Fort Dodge, Ia., also survive.

Men Are Wanting Farm Employment

Number of Applicants Listed at Chamber of Commerce Office—No Calls for Two Weeks

A number of men are wanting jobs on farms in Nodaway County or elsewhere, D. A. Caldwell, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, said this morning.

No calls for farm help have been received at the Chamber of Commerce office for about two weeks, while three or four apply for work nearly every day.

MAIN STREET NO SPEEDWAY

OFFICERS ARREST SPEEDERS LAST NIGHT

THE JUDGE SAYS $10.65

Treese, Owens, Seyster and French, Violate Traffic Rules and Are Called Into Court.

Speeding on Main street seemed to be the favorite pastime with a few motorists last night—and they can't get away with it when police officer Leo ("Spud") Atherton happens to be along this thoroughfare. He also picks up those who violate the traffic rules.

The arrest of three last night and one this noon enriched the city treasury today and also gave Judge Warren L. Johnson, city police judge, a little business.

C. A. Treese, a bell hop, was in a hurry last night on East First street and came under the observation of John Hayes, night officer, who put him under arrest. In police court this afternoon Treese was fined $5 and costs, the total amounting to $10.65.

Orvin Owens, a farmer, was arrested last night by Atherton, charged with speeding. He will appear in police court at 8 o'clock tonight.

Howard Seyster, who lives east of the city, was also arrested by Atherton last night. He was caught speeding on Main street. In police court today his fast driving cost him $10.65.

Another case came up in police court this afternoon was the City against Bennett French, the latter charged with violating the traffic rules by turning an automobile around on Main street immediately west of the courthouse. This action was expensive to French, costing him the sum of $10.65. French was arrested this noon by Atherton.

George R. Ellison 44 Years Old Today

He Is Well-Known Attorney, Golf Player, Business Man and Connoisseur of Pipes.

George Robb Ellison is celebrating his 44th birthday today, having been born in Maryville on July 22, 1881. In addition to being a prominent attorney, he plays politics from the sidelines as well as playing golf. He is a member of the Democratic State Committee, being one of the five members of the executive committee of the state party organization.

In business circles, he is a director of the Farmers Trust Company of this city, the Maryville Homestead & Loan association, and a member of the board of directors of the Maryville Country Club.

His name has frequently been mentioned recently by his friends over the state as a candidate for the Supreme Court but he has so far turned a deaf ear to their pleadings.

In addition to his reputation as an attorney, politician and a golf player, Mr. Ellison is a well-known connoisseur of pipes of various makes. Recently Dr. Porter Williams, former superintendent of State Hospital No. 2 at St. Joseph, now living at Boonville, sent Mr. Ellison a collection of corncob pipes made at Boonville as a testimonial of his ability along this line.

EVOLUTION TO HIGHER COURT

MOVE TO BAR ITS TEACHING IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

TO TEST LEGALITY

Scopes Defense Counsel Prepares for Appeal to State Supreme Court — Defendant in Statement.

Washington, July 22—The conflict between religion and science exemplified in the Scopes anti-evolution trial in Tennessee today came squarely before the federal courts of the District of Columbia.

Declaring that children in the national capital were being taught disrespect of the Holy Bible, Lorren H. Wittner of Washington asked the District Supreme Court to enjoin the city's fiscal agents from paying salaries to instructors who teach the evolution theory of the origin of man in conflict with divine creation.

Teaching of evolution, Wittner said, was expressly forbidden by Congress in the last district appropriation bill that provided "that no part of the sum shall be available for the payment of the salaries of any superintendents who permit the teaching of, or any teacher who teaches disrespect of the Holy Bible."

Wittner cited thirteen specific instances of alleged "disrespect for the holy Bible' through teaching from the approved textbooks of natural science. One of the books singled out was Hunter's biology, for the teaching of which to his high school students John Scopes was convicted in Dayton.

Dayton, Tenn., July 22—Interest today was reverted to the constitutionality of the Tennessee anti-evolution law under which John Scopes was convicted yesterday.

Counsel for Scopes were drafting a bill of exceptions for presentation of their appeal of the conviction to the Tennessee Supreme Court. The appeal will be filed at Knoxville within thirty days.

In the higher courts, defense attorneys announced they will concentrate their efforts on having the law declared unconstitutional. Every weapon, however, will be used to reverse Scopes' conviction, including all the exceptions taken during the eight-day trial.

The bill of exceptions will include five principal points, it was learned today.

John Scopes, with a $500 bond hanging over him, will leave for his Paducan, Ky. home about Saturday to enjoy a three-months vacation. His present ambition is to devote the next three years of his life to a higher university education and a $5,000 fund for this purpose has already been started among the educators who came here to defend him. He has definitely decided not to teach in Rhea County again, it is understood.

By JOHN THOMAS SCOPES.
Convicted Defendant In Anti-Evolution Trial.

Written expressly for International News.

Court House, Dayton, Tenn., July 22.—I was not surprised at being convicted in this court. I had hoped that the fight would be won as early as possible but it was beyond all my hopes to gain a victory in the lower court.

With the exclusion of scientific evidence and the decision of the presiding judge declaring the anti-evolution law to be constitutional, there was not the least chance of my acquittal.

The cause has not been daunted, but on the contrary, there is more of a determination to carry on to a successful conclusion in the higher courts.

The jury in this court heard only the evidence of two school boys, who were put on the stand by the prosecution, the expert testimony of scientists which the jury was supposed to hear will be in the records that will be taken before the upper courts and will enable us to overturn this verdict.

If the higher courts of Tennessee decide against us, the fight will be taken to the supreme court of the United States. Defeat will not be admitted unless the highest court of the land goes against us.

We will stay by the ship and every point will be fought out bitterly. Success is ultimately with us.

The parking system on East Fourth street between Main and Market streets was changed this morning when a crew of men of the street department painted off parking spaces adjacent to each curb. The parking system in vogue previously on this portion of East Fourth was center parking.

Hobbies of the Great and Near Great in American National Life

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the third of a series of intimate sketches of the great and near great in Washington. Their hobbies reveal this galaxy of national politicians as "regular fellows" with just as many human traits as the man on the farm or in the factory.

WILLIAM E. BORAH

The world has beaten a pathway to his door only to find Senator William E. Borah (R., of Idaho) living with the simple dignity of a small-town lawyer.

If his colleagues in the Senate were to name the greatest living American statesman they would choose Borah, but they also would bestow upon him the title, "Greatest Commoner" of them all.

For if Borah has a weakness to plague his admirers in official circles it is his simple mode of livelihood. The Idaho Senator may occupy the first page of every newspaper in America this morning and be found this afternoon riding a street car home from work, rubbing elbows with thousands of Government employes. He may be called to a White House conference and he'll pursue the same course of conduct as if responding to a telephone call from the corner drug store in his home town of Boise.

Borah has two hobbies. First comes "Jester," his sorrel riding horse, and second, "Bill" Hart, of movie fame. He has a weakness too—that persistent riding of street cars.

"Jester" is more than a riding horse to Borah. It is his companion. It is while riding "Jester" that Borah plans his speeches, ponders over weighty legislative problems and reaches important political decisions. And Borah looks upon "Jester" as an almost human companion to whom he can turn in any difficulty.

Fond Side Revealed.

One story will suffice to show Borah's love for the animal. Recently while riding in a Washington park, "Jester" reared as a squirrel ran across the bridlepath and Borah was almost unseated. In momentary wrath he plied his whip to "Jester's" flank. Thereafter "Jester" cantered with great care.

The ride ended, Borah tendered the horse its customary dole of sugar. "Jester" nosed the delicacy aside, sniffing. Borah was surprised. He tried the gift again and "Jester" again refused it.

Borah went to the Capitol and there he kept thinking about "Jester" and his refusal of the sugar. At last he phoned the stable, worried lest the animal was sick. The groom convinced him that he was in excellent condition. Then Borah decided that the animal was piqued because of the punishment meted him for rearing. With that, Borah dropped all work, left the Capitol and went straightway to "Jester."

An hour's petting at the stable finally won the horse back to normalcy and Borah only left after the gift of sugar had been accepted.

"I firmly believe 'Jester' can reason," said Borah afterward. "He felt I had punished him unfairly. You see, I was deep in thought and paying no attention to him. That piqued him and re reared only in play, to attract my attention. Then, when I whipped him, his feelings were hurt."

Likes Western "Thrillers."

While "Jester" is Borah's chief hobby, the animal also is responsible for the Senator's love of "Bill" Hart's Western movies. Borah loves to watch Hart's great horsemanship and his beautiful riding horses. He has been known to travel clear across Washington to see an old Hart film for the second or third time.

Borah also is an omnivorous reader. He selects "heavy" literature, with his favorite subjects ranging from political science to historical works. His command of facts and dates of history is second to none in Washington. His direct quotations from speeches of William Pitt, Alexander, Hamilton, Thomas Jefferson and other great characters of history have time and again amazed his colleagues. He is a lover of Shakespeare, too, with Macbeth and Hamlet favored above others of the master's works.

An anecdote explains his taste of books. On a recent trip two of his secretaries went with him. The long train ride was boresome, and the Senator asked the women whether they wanted to read something. Both replied affirmatively, and Borah brought them two books. They were the Bible and Emerson's Essays.

President Provoked.

Borah's practice of riding street cars at all times recently caused President Coolidge some annoyance. The Executive summoned Borah by telephone and then had to wait until the Senator arrived aboard a slow-moving trolley. Now, when the President summons Borah, he sends a White House automobile to carry the Senator to the appointment.

Friends of Borah once protested against his riding street cars.

"You're too well-known to ride a trolley like a government worker," they told him. "There's La Follette, Norris, Johnson—they all have automobiles. Why not buy a small car?"

"I can't afford one," was Borah's reply. "I'm a poor man, and I live within my means."

Hires Plane for Visit With Mother

(Shenandoah Sentinel-World)

Miss Kathryn Abplanalp of the correspondence department of the Henry Field Seed Company, conceived the idea of making her mother at Grant City, Mo., a "flying" visit last evening. She engaged passage with B. F. Billings in his fine Curtis plane, which has been taking up passengers here the last few days and they left promptly at 5 o'clock.

They made a landing close to Miss Abplanalp's home and created quite a stir. The journey to Grant City was made in one hour, covering a distance of eighty miles.

Mr. Billings is well known in air craft circles and has been in the game for eight years. He is a member of the firm of Billings-Brown Aircraft corporation of St. Joseph, Mo. A pilot, O. C. Winkler, who is also connected with the U. Schneider Insurance Company of St. Joseph accompanied Mr. Billings, and visited a friend, John Stevens, a druggist at Grant City during his stay there.

The flyers left Grant City this morning at 5:30 a. m., heading for St. Joseph, as Mr. Winkler had to be back to the city this morning. They arrived at 6:15 o'clock, a distance of seventy-five miles, and after visiting the aviation fields for which St. Joseph is becoming noted, the homeward journey was commenced, traveling the ninety miles to Shenandoah by 9:10 o'clock.

Miss Abplanalp said the trip was wonderful and the journey to Grant City was absolutely smooth, with hardly a change of altitude, but that the journey from St. Joseph to Shenandoah was very rough, caused from bucking the wind. She is perfectly wild about flying and said she wanted to take a trip again soon.

Mr. Billings will fly at the Clarinda fair this week, at Hamburg fair next week and will be at Shenandoah the next week to take passengers. At that time, Herbert Haley of Seattle, Wash., will make some of his sensational parachute jumps from the plane.

Miss Abplanalp had a compliment for the flyer, Mr. Billings, when she said he was a very careful driver, and seemed to absolutely know his business. He has a wonderful plane in which it is a joy to ride. She experienced no tire trouble and the dust was non-existant. The cold this morning was rather severe for one unprepared.

3-Year-Old Boy Tries to Find Home

Edwardsville, Ill., July 22.—(United Press)—A three year old boy is here today looking for a home.

The lad wandered into the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Hancock here and said that his mother had instructed him to stop at the house. The lad was unknown to the family.

The little boy did not know his name nor where he had lived. The only way he could describe his mother was by saying she was a "fat lady."

He told authorities that his mother had taken him to the corner in front of the Hancock home and pointed out the house. He said she told him to knock on the door as it was where he wanted to go.

Police are endeavoring to find the mother and re-establish the tow-headed lad's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ova Wohlford and family of Barnard were business visitors today.

GOOD DISPOSITIONS INVALUABLE

You can't watch your disposition too carefully. A crab and a grouch are rarely successful. If your liver and stomach are in an unhealthy condition you can not have a sunny disposition because they affect the brain as well as the entire system. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has been usually successful in such cases. Our advice to everyone troubled in this way, especially when accompanied with bloating in the stomach, is to try this remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Polarine
THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

"F"

For Fords

Of all the products made by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), not one has met with a more enthusiastic reception than Polarine "F" for Fords. It fills a long-felt want; for it is a double-purpose oil:

It stops transmission noise effectively by building up on the drums a stable lubricating film which will not rub off under the scraping action of the bands.

It lubricates the engine thoroughly and causes it to operate quietly and efficiently.

Polarine "F" for Fords costs no more than a single-purpose oil. This feature is indicative and typical of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) ideals of service; i. e., to manufacture products of superior quality and to give to the public a maximum return of service for every penny expended.

Drain your crankcase every few hundred miles, thoroughly cleanse the motor with Polarine Flushing Oil, and refill with Polarine "F".

That's economy!

School Romance Is Nipped by Officers

Boy and Girl Held In St. Louis In Connection With Rented Motor Car—Unsuccessful in St. Joseph

Kansas City, Mo., July 22.—A grade school romance ran onto the rocks today in the arrest in St. Louis of Grace Baker, 14 years of age, and Kenneth Carter, 16 years of age, who were held there in connection with a rented motor car, according to word received here today by the girl's mother, Mrs. Jennie Baker of this City.

With them was Edwin Frazee, age 15, who according to information received by Mrs. Baker from St. Louis police, went along as "best man."

After unsuccessful attempts in St. Joseph to obtain a marriage license they went to St. Louis where they had the same difficulty. Mrs. Baker says 'if they aren't married already, I'll see that they get married when they get back to Kansas City."

Darrow Gives His Opinions

informed in the first part of the Bible, however, that God is a spirit. If Mr. Bryan will describe what he means by God, I probably could tell better whether I believe in his God. Mr. Bryan said in effect, that God was like a man and was fashioned in the image of man. I do not believe in this kind of a God. As to the origin of the universe and who or what is back of it, I do not pretend to know.

Mr. Bryan—Do you believe the Bible is the revealed will of God, inspired and trustworthy?

Mr. Darrow—I think there is much that is of value in the Bible. I do not believe it was written or inspired by God. I believe it should be taken like every other kind of book, and that the parts that are sublime are like such parts of any great book—as much inspired as, say, "In His Image."

Mr. Bryan—Do you believe in the supernatural Christ, foretold in the Old Testament and revealed in the New Testament?

Mr. Darrow—I do not believe any supernatural Christ was foretold in the Old Testament or revealed in the New Testament. I believe the Christ prophesied in the Old Testament was a great Jew who should deliver his people from their physical bondage and nothing else.

Mr. Bryan—Do you believe in the miracles recorded in the Old and New Testaments? If you believe in some, but not all, please name a few of those you accept and those you reject with the reasons. Do you believe Christ was conceived of the Holy Ghost and born of the Virgin Mary, as recorded in Matthew and Luke? Do you believe Christ rose from the dead as described in the four gospels?

Mr. Darrow—I do not believe in miracles. I believe the universe acts and always has acted in accordance with an immutable law, and that whatever may be back of the universe never has violated these laws.

Mr. Bryan—Do you believe in the immortality of the soul?

Mr. Darrow—I have been searching for proof of this all my life, with the same desire to find it that is incident to every living thing, and I never have found any evidence on the subject.

Mr. Bryan—If you believe in evolution, at what point in man's descent from the brute is he endowed with hope and promise of a life beyond the grave?

Mr. Darrow—I have no knowledge on the question of when man first believed in life beyond the grave. I am not at all sure whether many other animals have not the same hope of a future life. The origin of this belief may have arisen in vivid dreams concerning the return of the dead, or, for all I know, from actual evidence of the return of the dead.

"I never have tried to impose my views on religion on any human being," Mr. Darrow said when he finished his answers. "I have a right to my own views, and I try as hard to protect the right of every other man to his views as I do to protect my own."

Boats Sink During Gale; Big Damage

Two Large Vessels Grounded In Bay With Some Damage—Scores Injured In Terrific Storm.

Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, July 22.—A terrific gale has swept the harbor at Guaymas on the western coast of Mexico, according to advises received here today. Eleven boats capsized and sunk. Buildings along the water front were seriously damaged. Two large vessels at Esperanza and Hidalgo grounded in the bay with some damage. Scores have been injured. A hurried check-up showed no one was killed. The wind unroofed several buildings.

CHOICE LIQUOR CONFISCATED

CHARLESTON, MO., OFFICERS MAKE BIG HAUL.

YACHT IS DETAINED

Rumors In Circulation That Large Motor Cars Visit Boat—About $50,000 Worth Seized.

Charleston, Mo., July 22.—A yacht its trappings brightly polished and its hold containing some $50,000 worth of choice whisky, today is in possession of county authorities.

It was seized here late last night by Sheriff J. O. King and the whisky was confiscated.

The yacht had come up the river from the south and docked near here. Rumors had been circulated that large motor cars were seen to visit the yacht.

When Sheriff King visited the yacht last night, he found a man giving the name of S. A. Reynolds in charge. Reynolds first denied knowledge of the liquor stored in the hold and then refused to talk about it. He was brought here for further questioning.

Two truck loads of the liquor, most of which was Canadian whisky, was brought here and confiscated today.

Bituminous Workers May Be Drawn In

Operators Charge Miners With Breaking Faith In Rejecting Other Situation In Anthracite Deals

Atlantic City, July 22.—In a bitter session of the wage conference between anthracite operators and miners today, the operators charged the miners with breaking faith in injecting the bituminous coal situation into the anthracite negotiations.

A heated discussion revolved about the sending of the telegram to Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, by Van Bittner, chief representative of the United Mine Workers in Northwestern Virginia, in which Bittner predicted a general strike in both anthracite and bituminous coal fields unless something is done to stop bituminous operators from abrogating union wage agreements in West Virginia.

Tax Figures Ready for Public Sept 1

Amounts Are Those Declared To Be Due By Taxpayers In Filing Returns for Calendar Year 1924

Washington, July 22.—Income tax payments will be open to public inspection on and after September 1, it was announced at the treasury department today.

The amounts shown on the lists open for public inspection are the amounts of tax declared to be due by the taxpayers in their returns filed, beginning January 1, 1925, and may be subject to adjustment and revision by the subsequent audit of returns or by the filing of the amended returns by the taxpayers.

Incomes represented are those for the calendar year 1924, or the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925.

Niagara "Pilgrims" Due Back Thursday

Shenandoah, Ia., July 22.—Plans are being made by the Kiwanis club to give the returning Niagara Falls pilgrimage a hearty reception Thursday morning on their return. The first train is scheduled to return at 5:30 a. m., the second at 6:05, the third at 7:30 and the fourth at 8:30 o'clock.

The fourth Wabash train will run into Council Bluffs and Omaha to return the 353 Omaha and 93 Council Bluffs passengers to their home cities.

To Put on Another Bus to St. Joseph

It is the intention of C. H. Hastings, manager of the present motor bus line to St. Joseph, to put on two new busses of a newer and larger type, as soon as the vehicles can be procured.

The present bus in use will be taken off as soon as the new ones arrive, he says. This will give additional service to St. Joseph. Besides the present schedule of a bus leaving here in the morning and returning from St. Joseph early in the evening a bus will come up from St. Joseph in the morning and go down in the afternoon.

Mrs. Will Ulmer is seriously ill of locked bowels at St. Francis Hospital. She entered the hospital this morning.

John Dowden went to Excelsior Springs this morning to take the treatments for rheumatism.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ackerman, an inmate of a home for the aged at Rochester, N. Y., is 108 years old but still takes an active interest in life. Her favorite topic of conversation is recipes for soup and gingerbread—they made them better, 75 years ago, than they do now, she says.

Useless Waste Object of Legislative Knife

Announcement of Legislative Program Outlined by Curtis Is Made Today By Secretary Work.

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Unofficial announcement of the legislative program for the elimination of waste and duplication in the various bureaus of the government as outlined by Senator Charles Curtis, majority leader in the Senate, was contained in a statement issued today by Hubert Work, secretary of interior.

"Different bureaus of the government performing the same or similar functions have long been the source of unnecessary waste," he said.

State Attorney Is Released on Bond

Houston, Mo., July 22.—Dale E. Moberly, prosecuting attorney of Texas County, is out on bond today on a charge of felonious assault.

The charge was made by two men who claim they were shot at Moberly while returning from a fishing trip on July 9.

Moberly in answer, claims that he shot only at the tires of the motor car in which the two were riding when they refused to halt. He was with a local constable and they were trailing the motor car of the two, in belief that it contained liquor.

More Hopeful Now of Parley of Powers

Washington, July 22—The hopes of Secretary Kellogg for a conference on Chinese affairs were raised today by the announcement that Japan is in accord with his views for an international discussion of Chinese relations with foreign powers.

The state department understands that Great Britain's views are the same as those of Japan but has not yet been officially advised to that effect.

Mexico Sends Regret to U. S. for Wounding

Washington, July 22.—The Mexican government has expressed regret to the United States for the wounding last Friday of Harold Bretherton, American vice-consul at Aguas Calientes, the state department announced today.

A dispatch from the American embassy at Mexico City said Bretherton was wounded by a stray bullet fired in a street battle between two members of the local Chamber of Deputies.

The Mexican government has ordered the punishment of the man accused of wounding Bretherton.

Dale and Vogt to Play for Medal Title

Richman Loses to Dale Yesterday—The Latter Makes Best Score Up to Date in Tourney.

Ed Dale and C. G. Vogt are expected to play the final match in the class A 18-hole medal play golf tournament tomorrow afternoon to decide the championship.

Dale advanced to the final round by defeating Luther A. Richman, 85 to 100. The last nine holes were played yesterday afternoon. Dale shot a 44 and Richman a 46. Last week in the first round Dale made a 41 and Richman a 54. Incidently the 85 score is the lowest chalked up by any of the players in either class A or class B up to date in the tourney.

The Nodaway Co. I. O. O. F. Association meets at Quitman, Mo., July 27. All I. O. O. F. fellows invited. Rebekah Ladies will serve supper.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Neighbors

LEAPIN' LIZARDS! LOOK AT ALL THOSE BIG BLACK CROWS, SANDY - THERE'S THOUSANDS OF 'EM
HELLO, MR. SCONCE -
WELL, WELL, - SO YOU'RE LITTLE ANNIE - WARBUCKS WAS TELLING ME ABOUT YOU THE OTHER DAY -
SAY, DON'T ALL THOSE CROWS DO A LOT OF DAMAGE?
YES - BUT THEY DO MORE GOOD THAN HARM ANNIE - BIRDS ARE PART OF THE GREAT DIVINE PLAN I GUESS - IF WE DIDN'T HAVE THE BIRDS TO HELP US RAISE OUR CROPS WE'D ALL STARVE -
THAT'S A NEW ONE ON ME - COURSE I ALWAYS KNEW YOU SHOULDN'T HURT A BIRD 'CAUSE IT'S PRETTY AND SINGS - BUT I NEVER THOUGHT ABOUT ALL THE HARMFUL BUGS THEY EAT AND ALL THE REAL HELP THEY ARE TO FOLKS - GEE, YOU LEARN SOMETHING EVERY DAY IF YOU LISTEN CLOSE -

Chicago Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, July 22.—Wheat suffered sharp losses on the Chicago Board of Trade here today. The decline brought prices to new low ground on the present movement. Wheat was continually under pressure. It seemed to be total lack of rallying power.

Corn acted independently and registered moderate gains on bullish news from sections of the Southwest. Oats continued inactive.

Buying that boosted provisions was attributed to sharply higher hogs and decrease in the product.

Public Eye For Tax Laggards

Income Levy Delinquents May Have Names Published, Otto States.

Jefferson City, July 22.—Names of persons who fail to file a state income tax return or of persons against whom the assessor makes returns on his own information, may be divulged by Missouri assessors or the state auditor and published, an opinion issued yesterday by Atty. Gen. Robert W. Otto held.

It was in reply to a question from L. D. Thompson, state auditor, who is supervisor of collection of the state income tax.

"We find no prohibition or penalty for making known the names of those who fail to file returns, or for stating the names of those against whom the assessor makes returns on his own information," the opinion stated. "The penalty and prohibition apply only to the contents of reports after they are made and filed."

Says He's Innocent So He Makes Escape

Caruthersville, Mo., July 22. (United Press)—When not guilty—just leave jail.

That is the motto of Johnny Jones, negro, whose home is at Jonesboro, Ark. He carried out his motto.

He was in jail here on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Officials found he had escaped, burrowing a tunnel under the cell house. In his stead they found the following note:

"The reason I am not here no more is because I am not guilty. So I am gone home. I won't never be back in Missouri. If I was ever guilty I would have stayed here. But I am not guilty. I'm going home."

Authorities are searching for him.

to his tent with only a skinned arm and leg to remind him of his fall. About this time my horse slipped while jumping a ditch. It seared him and scared me worse. He then bucked and came down stiff-legged. After the cessation of hostilities, the very thoughts of that horse or any of his relations, however distant, were distinctly repulsive to me.

I coaxed him up to the picked line and dragged myself up and joined Smith. He and I made a solemn pact concerning the future risks we placed ourselves in and together we awaited the condemnation of the captain. But he said little, other than dropping a hint that perhaps we had acted wisely. The camp doctor confined me to quarters because of pulled stomach muscles and thus the affair ended.

We have pistol practice this afternoon and mounted parade of the first battalion just before retreat. Tomorrow we have another turn at the range. All the fellows look forward to that. Why? Because it means one less day of firing and is one day nearer home.

Sergt. Blomfield.

Tuesday Morning.

We received another rain last night but by good fortune, especially for those that fear lightning as I do, we failed to receive our customary electric storm. It began raining about 6 o'clock and I know that it rained steadily until 9:30. After that hour, I can't really say how much it did rain. I do know that the mud isn't exactly welcomed by the men.

I have had occasion to talk to a number of inhabitants of this region and every one has made it a point to tell me that this weather is quite unusual for this section. These answers were not at all surprising to me. Try to recall the number of people that you have heard admit that any distasteful weather in their locality is common.

As a usual thing, if the men are asked to do any kind of work in the mud or even get out in the rain, they rebel and offer every kind of an excuse from a headache to a corn. But they turned out in the rain last night for mess and had a big time. It seemed that the man who could get the wettest was the leader.

A flag is hung daily from the cook shack that is the cleanest and most sanitary for that day. The shack that is second also bears a flag. This flag is the cause of keen competition among the eleven cookshacks of the regiment. Our cooks and mess officers have tried faithfully every day to gain this first flag. They failed again and again, always having an enviable per cent. Today, they succeeded in gaining possession of it and they swear that it will be a permanent ornament. They won with a percentage of 96. Much credit is due to Lieutenant Condon Sergeant England, First cook Reynolds, alternating cook and K. P. Helpley and Cockayne, not to mention a number of special duty men and K. P's.

The battery is on the range today firing shells and high explosives. I have swept tents until I am pale in the face. The men are getting out of the habit of being sick so easily. Now they have to scrub tents, clean up the kitchen, police the quarters and do all the detail work in general. Now if they get sick, about all the sympathy they get is a couple of CC's and a broom.

This afternoon we have detail work and regiment competition in harnessing, gunner's examinations, riding, etc. Tomorrow, there is the usual routine work. Thursday, we again go to the range and fire till the middle of the afternoon. Then we prepare for the regimental firing problem. We have to lay our guns, obtain our data and prepare for the night firing. We bivouac there till midnight and begin firing at this hour. We continue firing till noon Friday. Then we return to camp and complete the regimental contests. We have entered several good men in these contests and we have high hopes of winning some of the white sweaters. Saturday, we break camp and load. I will not mention Saturday afternoon or Sunday morning.

Our program indicates that we will have a variety in our work for the rest of the encampment. Some of this variety will be welcomed. I can't say as much for the remainder of our work. I'll bet that we will have little trouble in getting the men to work Saturday morning. For some unusual reason, the majority of the men seem to want to change scenery. I have my reasons but I can't speak for the rest of them.

Sergeant Ray V. Blomfield.

OBITUARY.

Nimrod Hugh Barringer was born at Crothersville, Ind., Jan. 18, 1842, and died at his home in Sloan, Iowa, July 13, 1925 He was 83 years, 5 months and 2' days old. He removed from Indiana to Iowa in 1869 and in 1881 he came to Missouri, living on a farm in the Platte Valley neighborhood. In 1898 he moved to Kansas, where he remained until 1919, when he moved to the present home in Iowa.

An Ocean of Laughs in "The Navigator"

Can you imagine Buster Keaton trying to run a 450-foot ocean liner all by himself? Can you see the trouble he gets into with such objects as sextants, folding bunks, fog horns, anchors, diving suits, mizzenmasts and all the various paraphernalia of sea travel?

It's all in his latest Metro-Goldwyn comedy, "The Navigator," which is coming to the Empire Theater tonight and tomorrow. This production is said to be funnier than anything Keaton has ever done before.

Kathryn McGuire is his leading lady, and others in the cast include Frederick Vroom, Noble Johnson, Clarence Burton, H. M. Clugston. The story was written by Jean Havez, Clyde Bruckman and Joseph Mitchell. Donald Crisp and Keaton himself directed.

STILL HAPPY WITH KAISER

PRINCESS DENIES STORIES OF DIVORCE.

"NO DISAGREEMENTS"

In Exclusive Interview, Empress Hermine Tells Story Of Domestic Life Of Former Royalty.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The International News Service herewith presents the first installment of a remarkable interview with Princess Hermine, who startled the world a few years ago by marrying the kaiser and going with him to share his lonely exile at Doorn.

Since the election of Field Marshal von Hindenburg to the presidency of Germany, continental Europe has seethed with rumor and speculation concerning the future of the house of Hohenzollern.

Does Wilhelm from his lonely exile, looking at the young republic still hope to remount the throne of a monarchial Germany?

What of the rumors that the kaiser and Hermine quarrel bitterly, that they have parted?

What part, if any did the erstwhile war lord play in the election of Hindenburg? Does he pull secret strings in German affairs?

What does Wilhelm do with the bleak days that are so different now? What is his routine, what are his hobbies?

Serious questions these. And Hermine answers them, candidaly and frankly she answers some less serious, too, as for instance, what does she think of the world-wide epidemic of bobbed hair?

This unusual interview will be carried in four installments the first of which is presented below.

Copyright 1925 by International News Service.
(All Foreign Rights Reserved).

Wildbad, Black Forest, Germany, July 22.—"All stories that the kaiser and I are estranged or are intending to separate, or seek a divorce are malicious lies. There is not one atom of foundation for them."

A pair of clear, brown eyes flashed indignation as Empress Hermine made this categorical statement to me today. We were sitting in her drawing room in the Bad hotel (bad means bath) in this romantically situated health resort nestling amidst the Black Forest mountains, where the empress has just finished taking the cure for rheumatism.

After a week of pour parlors, which were conducted with great courtesy on behalf of Empress Hermine by Privy Councillor Nitz, her majesty finally consented to grant me the first and only audience given any journalist since she was married to Wilhelm nearly three years ago. For more than two hours she discussed with absolute frankness multifarious subjects connected with herself, the kaiser, their martial relations and life at Doorn.

Happy With Kaiser.

"We are exceedingly happy together," said the empress. "There has never been the slightest hint of separation or divorce, nor even the shadow of estrangement.

"We haven't had a single quarrel or serious disagreement. If all married people get along as wonderfully as we do, the world would be happier. We understand each other perfectly and when we are apart we are in constant correspondence and tell each other our thoughts and experiences."

At the beginning of the interview we chatted a few moments about the first time I was privileged to interview her—when my airplane had crashed in a field close by her castle at Saabor, Silesia, and when she played the role of good Samaritan to my two badly injured companions.

Fate had turned a carefully plotted "emergency landing" into a real crash rending the plane to smithereens. The empress was deeply distressed to hear that one of the two injured men had died in the meantime.

Both in appearance and bearing, this scion of the proud house of the Princess of Reuss—equal in blood to the Hohenzollerns—is every inch an empress even though she has no empire. She spoke in soft, well modulated tone and her voice took on a note of tenderness as she said:

Back To Doorn Again.

"I am going back to Doorn at the end of July. I wish I didn't have to stay away so long because I feel my place is beside my husband—but this last attack of rheumatism, which followed an operation, made it imperative for me to take the cure.

"The damp climate of Doorn is poison for my system. I know that after a few weeks there I shall suffer pain again.

"Why won't people understand that my illness—an occasional necessary visit to my estate to look after my affairs—are the only reasons in the world why we cannot be continually together in Holland?

"Why must the tongue of slander get into motion every time, the moment I leave Doorn?

"I know what I was doing when I married the kaiser. I wasn't a silly flapper, but a mature woman. I knew him and knew I should be happy with him, although—this moment a touch of sadness flew over the charming open face—"although I also knew what sacrifices my step would entail for me.

"I cannot help it if people won't believe there is perfect harmony between us, but I do think it is time they stop heaping slander upon us."

ON ROUTE TO MOVIE FAME

EIGHTEEN "HOPEFULS" TO TAKE ROYAL ROAD.

SCHOOL IS STARTED

Various Courses To Be Taken By Prospective Stars Who Are Remnants Of Huge Army of Aspirants.

New York, July 22. (United Press)—Eighteen Hollywood hopefuls, including a heterogenous array of blondes, brunettes and bellboys who expect to form a new generation of Swansons and Meighans, started the royal road to movie fame here Tuesday.

The event was the opening of the Famous Players-Lasky's new cinema school where for a paltry $1,200 tuition, a student is virtually guaranteed stardom on the silver screen.

The nine young men and nine young women who faced the camera and Kleig lights for the first time were the lucky remnants of an army of 30,000 who had competed with beauty and personality in a nation-wide elimination contest for the privilege of attending the new school.

The student body is composed of seven actors; four "musicians" who are accredited with the ability to play anything from harp to bass drum; three cloak models; two movie "extras;" a bellboy; and one newspaperman.

Etiquette will be subject Number One in the curriculum. The may-be-stars must learn good manners, it was pointed out, so they won't ruin a scene in a society production by eating olives with a fork.

The Second Course, horseback riding, will be studied by all except one student who is slated to play the role of the Prince of Wales in a future picture.

Swimming will be taught to all except the girls who hope to become bathing beauties. In their case, it was pointed out, this will not be essential in view of the fact that the queens of the surf never go near the water.

Other courses will include makeup, fencing, golf, tennis and interior decoration. The 18 who began work will be graduated at the end of six months. Then another batch of the potentially great will be put through the mill.

Among the students, some of whose names are almost sure to appear in the white lights of Broadway within two years are Lorraine Earson Wilbur Dillon and Laverne Lindsay of Hollywood, Cal., Irving Hartley of Culver City, Cal., and Charles Rogers of Olathe, Kansas.

Explaining the purpose of the new school, Jesse Lasky said that about six hundred feature pictures were being produced annually in the United States and that this created a serious shortage of movie stars.

Fred L. Williams Urges Convention Instead of Primary

State Should Pay Expenses Former Supreme Court Member Says.

(St. Louis Globe Democrat).

Fred L. Williams, former member of the Missouri Supreme Court, who has had personal experience in the making of a state-wide canvass for public office under the primary, said yesterday he favored the passage of a law substituting the convention system of making party nominations for the primary. The state, he said, should pay the traveling evpenses of the delegates, and proxies should be barred.

He is a member of the Executive Committee of the Democratic State Committee, to which former Judge Priest's suggestion for a state convention for the slating of candidates for United States Senator and other offices will be referred by Joshua Barbee, chairman of the Democratic State Committee. No date has been fixed by Barbee for the meeting of the Executive Committee.

Williams said, in his opinion it will be difficult to hold a convention for the indorsement of candidates so long as its acts could be nullified in the state primary.

Discussion the convention system plan, Williams said: "It would be easy to conceive of a convention system of party nominations that, to my mind, would be superior to and far more representative than the present primary system.

A Legislative Act.

"The convention system I have in mind should be established by legislative act. Its delegates should be selected by the local electorate. No proxies should be permitted and the delegates thus elected should have their mileage paid by the state.

"Such a system would cost less than the present plan of primary choice, would be more representative and, in my opinion, yield far more satisfactory results. But until such a plan, with the above mentioned safeguards, has been provided by legislative act, it would be difficult in my opinion to accomplish the same results by voluntary action. At least I would want considerable more light on the proposition than I now have before I would favor such a plan."

The legislatures of 1921 and 1925 and the Constitutional Convention each sought to modify or do away with the primary system of making nominations in Missouri, but the bills submitted to the Legislature were killed and the proposed constitutional amendment was defeated along with most of the other work of the convention.

Another Park Added to State System

Addition Of Land Near Springfield Is Approved By Commission—Has Cave And Lake.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 22. (United Press)—Another attraction has been added to Missouri's chain of state parks.

This week the state park commission, coupled with Governor Baker, Attorney General Otto and state fish and game commissioner Keith McCanse, approved the addition of Sequoita State Fish Hatchery near Springfield as a part of the Missouri park system.

The hatchery has been maintained by the state and is used in restocking Ozark streams. Quantities of bass, crappies, perch and rainbow trout are raised at the hatchery.

Besides this feature another point which attracts visitors to the park is the cave and underground lake. Stalagmites and stalactites are formed inside the canyon and are said to be the most perfect and beautiful of such formations in the state.

The park has long been one of the state's interesting parks and now that it is to become a part of the state chain of parks is expected to attract tourists in a large number.

Jack in Charity Bout

During his recent sojourn across the pond, Champion Jack Dempsey took part in a bout for charity at Brighton, England. Here he's shown in the ring just before the opening gong. His opponent was a chap by the name of Phil Scott. The match attracted quite a bit of attention. The third man in the arena is Harry Preston, the promoter.

Bull Run Veterans in Annual Reunion

Stillwater, Minn., July 22. (United Press)—Three tottering old men gathered round a rare old bottle of burgundy Tuesday—marking time.

The one who lives longest may quaff the wine.

Token of the Last Man's Club, the old bottle with its ruddy contents was taken from its cherry wood case in the bank vault to grace the 41st annual banquet of the club. Untouched in all these years the vintage is perhaps the oldest wine in America.

Only four members remain of the 33 who sat at the first banquet of the Last Man's Club. All were survivors of the battle of Bull Run and yesterday commemorates the struggle. They were members of B Company, first Minnesota infantry.

Every year since the club was organized its members have met here to eat, drink and be merry with little thought of the morrow. But each year almost the number has dwindled. Each year there were more vacant chairs.

Yesterday there were only three. The fourth survivor is Emil Graff of St. Cloud, Fla., who is confined to a wheel chair and has not attended a reunion since 1915. The chairs of the 29 others were draped in black.

The three drank a toast—in clear, sparkling water—to those who have gone before.

There is one consolation in the scarcity of fruit. Money is easier and sugar is lower which is comforting both to the financial head and the actual head of the house.
